

STAGE STARS WHO WILL AMUSE NEW YORK AUDIENCES

"MADAME BUTTERFLY" IN PICTURES AT STRAND.

The Strand Theatre offers another film play the coming week, the story of which has been made famous in grand opera, novel and play. John Luther Long's "Madame Butterfly" is the attraction, and Mary Pickford will be seen in the title role. The pathetic story of Cio-Cio-San is told with infinite artistic skill. With the splendid settings which have been produced the photo-adaptation is said to rank as one of the foremost productions that patrons of the Strand have been privileged to see. The Famous Players' Film Company, which made the production, has given the star a capable cast, including Olive West, Jane Hall, Caroline Harris, Marshall Nallan, Lawrence Wood, N. T. Carlton, M. W. Rale, David Burton, Frank Bekum and Cesere Gravina.

The topical review contains some interesting news pictures from this country and abroad and also a newly arrived lot of European war pictures. The afternoon fashion show will reveal the latest styles in colors on the screen. These pictures were taken in Paris and New York. Travel pictures and scientific studies will also be shown, as will a new comedy. The musical programme is a varied and attractive one. The Strand concert orchestra, under the direction of Carl Edouard, will play incidental music to the subjects shown on the screen and concert numbers. The vocal soloists for the week are Grace Hoffman, soprano; Julia Beverley, contralto; and John Hendricks, baritone.

VAUDEVILLE.

COLONIAL TO HEAD
KEITH CIRCUIT HOUSES.

Starting Monday the Colonial Theatre will be the official head of the Keith Vaudeville Circuit and the great standard vaudeville house of the nation. The strongest possible bills are to be shown at the lowest prices at which "big-time" vaudeville has ever been presented.

On the coming bill will be Frank McIntyre, who makes his vaudeville debut in a farce called "The Hat Salesman," written by George V. Hobart; Lillian Kingsbury in "The Coward," a tabloid tragedy by Ethel Clifton and Brenda Fovler; Bernard Granville in songs, dances and travesties; Jack Donahue and Alice Marion Stewart, wife of nonentity labelled "Him and Her"; Ole Kyg, Spanish violinist; the Honey Boys, the Three Amoros Sisters, Lillian Fitzgerald and Henry I. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilde, English shadowgraphists, and a Pathé news pictorial.

At the Palace Theatre, Lillian Russell, in new songs, will remain another week. Others will be Sam Chip and Mary Marle in "The Clock Shop," George White in "Silent Love" in "Sonnydays," Raymond and Caverley, comedians; the Watson Sisters in songs, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry in "The Kube."

The Alhambra will have the Fall Fashion Show, with Emily Lea; William Courtney in "Peaches," Lydia Barry, comedians; Hawthorne and Ingalls in a comedy sketch, Marabou Girls in new dances, the Jewel City Trio and Cartmell and Harris in songs and dances.

The Royal Theatre will open Monday with vaudeville, included in the
